

Thursday, 23rd of April, 9:00 – 17:00
Meeting at Faculty of Engineering & Architecture, meeting room Simon Stevin (ground floor, left wing, opposite Lecture Room A).
Josef Plateastraat 22, 9000 Gent

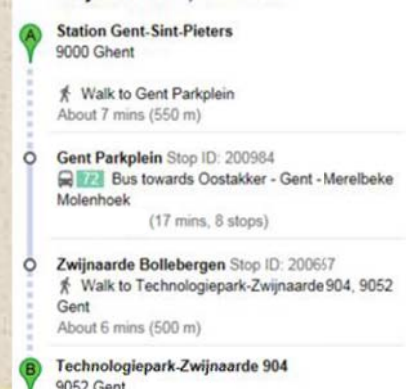

Friday, 24th of April, 09:00 – 14:30
Meeting at Magnel Laboratory for Concrete
Research •Room Riessauw, Technologiepark-
Zwijnaarde 904-9052 Gent
8:00~9:00 take the city bus or taxi to Magnel

Transit directions to Station Gent-Sint-Pieters

Transit directions to Technologiepark-Zwijnaarde 904, 9052 Gent

For any question or help during your stay, please contact:

- Marijke.Reunes@UGent.be (Magnel phone: +32 9 2645537)
- Nele.DeBelie@UGent.be (mobile: +32 499593981)
- Hugo.EguezAlava@UGent.be (mobile: +32 488945469)

Ghent is Belgium's third largest city, with about 250,000 residents. It is a major university center of Belgium. Ghent is on the Scheldt River, at the point where it joins with the Leie River. In medieval times, Ghent was Europe's largest cloth producer, using wool imported from England.

Ghent has numerous canals. The April weather is sunny for a walking tour, and visit various places like the city hall, various churches, the Gravensteen castle, cloth hall, meat market, and St. Baaf's Cathedral.

Ghent University, abbreviated to UGent, was founded in 1817 by King William I of Orange. The past 200 years, Ghent University employed many eminent scientists such as Nobel Prize winner Corneille Heymans, Leo Baekeland, Joseph Guislain, Walter Fiers, Marc Van Montagu, Peter Piot,...

41,000 students

11 faculties - 117 faculty departments

8 administrative department

9,000 staff members

Hotels in the Centre of Ghent

Ghent Marriott*
Korenlei 10, 9000 Gent
www.marriottghent.com

Ghent-River Hotel*
Waaistraat 5, 9000 Gent
www.ghent-river-hotel.be

Hotel Gravensteen ()
Jan Breydelstraat 35, B-9000
GENT
<http://www.gravensteen.be>

NOTE : these hotels have
"special rate for Ghent University". For booking please contact
Marijke.Reunes@UGent.be,

